There's something truly magical about the transformation of raw clay into functional works of art, and I feel blessed to play a part in that process. I began doing pottery in 2019 and quickly learned that God is the ultimate potter, and I must be the clay. Pliable and willing to be moulded in His hands. I am Inspired by nature and like to use pattern, dimension, color and texture. It is my prayer that each piece of pottery I create brings joy to those who receive it.
