Mary Orcutt is a stained glass artist based in Austin, TX. She is inspired by nature, imagination, and pictures from her world travels to design and create art that showcases the interaction of color, light, and texture in captivating ways. She enjoys collaborating with people to create custom designs for commissioned stained glass artwork, as well as participating in small, local markets in the greater Austin area.

When not in her stained glass studio, she enjoys time with family and friends, scuba diving, mountain biking, walking the trails of Austin, and reading fantasy books.
